THE CLOTH ROAD ARTS WEEK

Saturday 3rd May to Sunday 11th May 2014

Welcome to the 2014 Cloth Road Arts Week, a free nine-day celebration of the visual arts and crafts in West Wiltshire. This is a great opportunity for you to enjoy a tremendous variety of visual creativity and gives you the chance of meeting with individual artists and makers.

This is the 6th such art trail to be staged in our area, with open venues to be found in the local towns of Trowbridge, Melksham and Bradford on Avon, as well as in the surrounding communities.

The Arts Week runs from Saturday 3rd May to Sunday 11th May. This year we are very pleased to be associated with Trowbridge Arts who have welcomed us by providing exhibition space in Trowbridge Town Hall, the newly dedicated Arts Venue in the County Town.

We are also pleased to include a terrific collaborative schools art project based on Charles Eames' 'House of Cards', curated by Jayne Bullock.

The 2014 Cloth Road Arts Week has been made possible by the generous support of Wiltshire Council, Bradford on Avon Town Council, together with a number of Parish Councils and Trowbridge Town Council. Thanks must also go to Dentons Creative for their continuing website assistance.
